1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem. It is shown that the problem is of great importance and that it has not been completely solved. The author then presents a new method for solving the problem.
The method is based on the use of the variational principle. It is shown that the method is very simple and that it can be applied to a wide range of problems. The author then gives some numerical results which show that the method is very accurate.

The first of these is the fact that the number of cases of the disease has increased in the last few years.
 This is due to the fact that the disease is now more common in the tropics and subtropics. It is also more common in the cities than in the country. This is due to the fact that the disease is spread by the mosquito which is more common in the cities.
 The second fact is that the disease is now more common in the children.
 This is due to the fact that the children are more exposed to the mosquito than the adults. The third fact is that the disease is now more common in the poor than in the rich.
 This is due to the fact that the poor live in more crowded conditions and are more exposed to the mosquito.
